FAULT NOTICE

Most of the time the fault is on management and not the employee.

It's our responsibility to education and test the user to ensure they're prepared for social engineering attacks.

Timeline

Because of time limitations we are going to start on the second call.

- This call begins approximately 8 minutes into the conversation
- Pretext: I'm a quality assurance analyst for their ISP and I've identified a problem with their email.
 - During the OSI assessment we found recent post where this VP was complaining about the email at their ISP.
- Goal: Get him to give us remote access to the network.

Penetration Testing is the GREATEST ☺

#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

The Pretext

- New department at ISP/email hosting provider.
- Calling about problems we identified on their account
- Preemptively fixing issues
- Testing new server before migrating
- I need his sign off to migrate

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Teams

Build rapport by cultivating an “us against the world” scenario

Building comradery...

- Make mistakes on purpose
- Create a sense of comradery
- Work together to solve problems

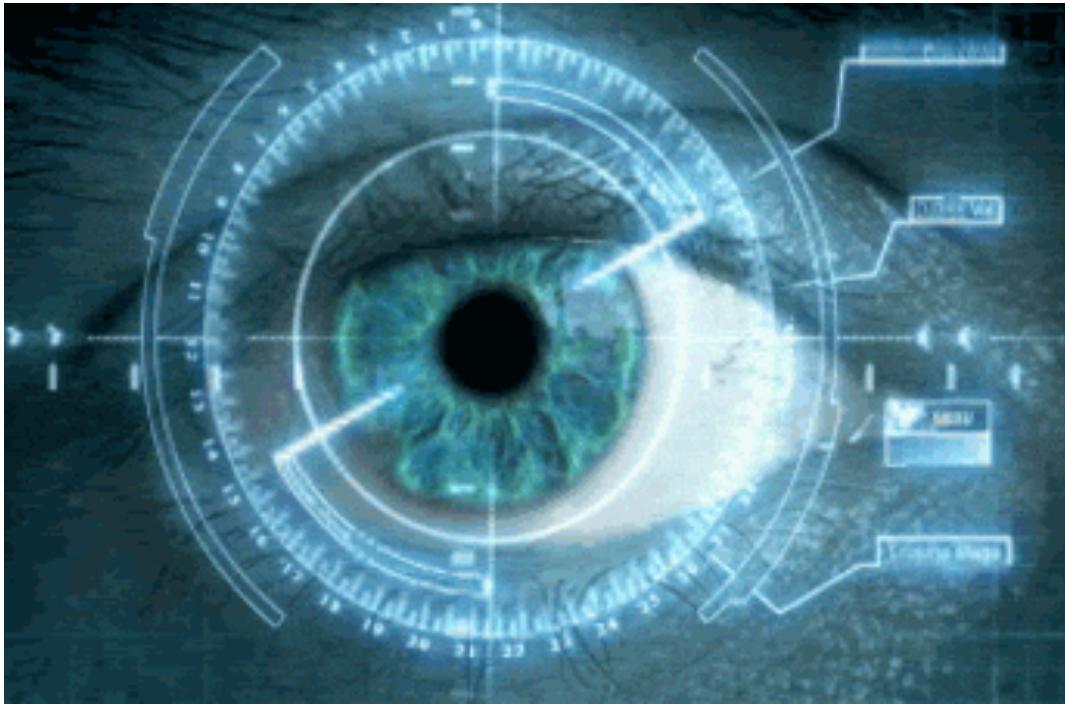

Call 2

08:32–09:38

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

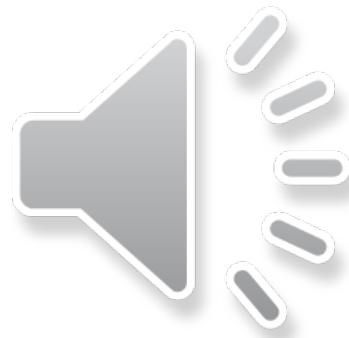

Blue Teams

Provide staff with a secure way to verify vendor identities

What next?

Call 2

09:34–10:25

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Team

- You never know when things might go bad
- Plan out all common problems
- Prepare for them

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Even with good planning, it can be challenging!

Call 2

10:22–11:16

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Never break
character!

Don't be afraid to take time to regroup!

- Multiple calls can help build rapport
- Bigger goals require more pretexting

Call 2

10:22–11:16

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Team

- Telephone based social engineering does not have to be completed in one call
 - Most sophisticated social engineering attacks require multiple calls

Don't be afraid to take time to regroup

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Team

- Always Have a Scapegoat

The “My Boss” Rule

Call 3

11:57–12:09

“My Boss”

Call 3

00:00–00:00

Red Team

- Ask the target permission for their time

“No time better than the present!”

Call 3

12:09–12:31

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Team

- Sound effects help subliminally sell your story to the target

Subliminal – Use Sound Effects

- The first 4 seconds of this clip have been amplified to emphasize the point

Call 3

12:32–12:36

Red Team

- Be bold in your responses
 - You're better off answering a question wrong than to answer without confidence
- Most people do not understand technology and this is a potentially exploitable vulnerability

“Save to what drive?”

Call 3

12:36–13:34

Read Between The Lines

- Listen for admissions of misunderstanding of tech

Type email-setup.ps1 and it should run...

Call 3

13:34–15:22

Red Team

- Provide frequent feedback to the target if you're not talking to them
- Be decently appologetic and thankful for their time

“We were supposed to test all this and...”

- Provide constant feedback
- Apologize for taking the target’s time
- Talk to yourself on purpose
- Use volume to emphasize your point
- Remind the target of goals

Call 3

15:22–18:46

Red Team

- Mention personal faults as excuses to get what you want
- Be persistent

“it would be easier if I could just take control...”

Call 3

18:46-21:40

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

Red Team

- Do almost everything on behalf of someone

“my boss is big into it though”

Call 3

21:48-22:15

#PEOPLESSECURITY / @PPLSEC
#BHEU / @BLACK HAT EVENTS

“I’m actually available on Monday”

Call 4
